Itinerary

Day 1

Australia ✈ Hanoi

Upon arrival at Noi Bai International Airport, you will be greeted by our representative and be transferred to the hotel for check-in. Hanoi is a charming and richly historic city of lakes, shaded boulevards and verdant public parks. The city center is like an architectural museum, with blocks of ochre buildings retaining the air of a provincial French town from the 1930s.

At 9PM, enjoy a welcome drink and meet your tour guide to have a briefing on the itinerary.

Day 5

Hoi An

After breakfast at the hotel, the tour guide will take you to Hoi An ancient town to visit the Japanese Covered Bridge. A beautiful bridge was built by the old Japanese in the 16th century as the Sword on the back of Namazu- a sea monster that has been making earthquakes in Japan. Our tour guide will tell you the beautiful architecture and stories about this wonderful bridge. After that, we will go to visit Tan Ky old house. It is a 200-year-old merchant house of Vietnamese with the fabulous architecture of Vietnamese, Japanese, and Chinese.

Our tour guide will explain to you how beautiful it is in Fengshui and the settings of this ancient house. Then we will go to visit is the Fujian Assembly Hall (Phuc Kien Assembly Hall). It is a typical Chinese Assembly Hall where the Chinese Businessmen worship the Goddess Mazu- the sea mother who helps and rescues people in accidents on the Ocean.

After the beautiful clubhouse of Chinese, we will go to the local handicraft space to learn how to make Hoi An lanterns. The locals there will guide you on how to make the typical traditional lantern of Hoi An.

After making the beautiful lanterns, you will keep what you made to be your souvenir. Last but not least, we will go to visit Hoi An market. It is the biggest market in the ancient town of Hoi An.

Day 7

Hue

After breakfast, visit The Imperial City, a walled palace and well-preserved remnant of the vast citadel and royal quarters that once existed on the site. In the early 19th century, Emperor Gia Long constituted geomancers to source the best location to build a new palace and citadel and this site was chosen. Tens of thousands of laborers were recruited to dig the ten-kilometer moat and earthen walls that form the outer perimeter of the citadel. We continue our trip to visit the Ming Mang tomb - one of the most majestic constructions of Emperors under the Nguyen dynasty before enjoying the street food in Hue by Cyclo with typical street food in Hue.

Bun Bo Hue – Noodle soup in Hue style is the top pick for everyone who wants to taste Hue specialties food. This is a full flavor of lemongrass and shrimp paste, served with beef, pork, meatballs and salad, with chili on the side. Bánh Khoái is a crepe made from rice and egg yolk. It's topped with green onion, fish sauce, peeled boiled shrimp, thin slices of grilled beef, and thin slices of fat and bean sprouts. The special taste of Bánh khoái comes from the sauce which only can be made by talented cooks. The most famous brand of Bánh khoái is Thuong Tu. You can come to Banh Khoai Lac Thien at 6 Dinh Tien Hoang Street, Hue city.

Nem Lụi Hue - Barbecued pork is a Hue specialty that you can see anywhere in Hue. To eat, dinners use rice paper to wrap herbs, pineapple, bean sprouts, green bananas, and chili. Then the roll is dipped in a special sauce made from dozens of ingredients such as oil, pork liver, winter melon powder, cinnamon, star aniseed, and coconut cream. Bánh bèo or Bloating Fern-shaped Cake is a savory cake eaten with dipping fish sauce. The rice flour mix is steamed in a small bowl before being topped with shrimp, ground pork, deep-fried pork fat, ground-dried tiny shrimp, and a mix of chopped green onion and oil. Fruit mixed or juice and enjoy local beer at walking street.

Then you are free to enjoy the rest of the evening at leisure.
